THE ALSATIAN BIEBER (BEAVER) CLAN

German – American Educational and Mainline Protestant Leaders of Pennsylvania, North Carolina, the Midwest, and Beyond

Alsace (Europe)

St. Thomas' Lutheran Church of Strasbourg, Alsace
 Built in 1521 – Protestant Since 1524 ***

(Many German - American Biebers and Beavers are descendants of Alsatian immigrants.)

Pennsylvania

Appalachian Trail Overlook, "The Pinnacle"
 Berks County, PA ***

Introducing the Bieber (Beaver) Clan of Pennsylvania

(Berks, Chester, Lehigh, Northampton Counties, and Elsewhere Across Pennsylvania)

North Carolina

Salisbury's Bell Tower Green
 Rowan County, NC ***

Introducing the Beaver (Bieber) Clan of North Carolina

(Rowan and Cabarrus Counties, and Elsewhere Across North Carolina)

Introducing Local, State, National, and International Leaders of the United States' Upper South, Mid-Atlantic, Midwest, New England, and Northwest Regions; and of Canada

Recognizing Ministers of the Lutheran, (German Reformed) United Church of Christ, Church of the Brethren, Methodist, Presbyterian, and Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) Faiths

Christopher Hunt Robertson, M.Ed.

2022 Award of Excellence from the North Carolina Society of Historians

Mr. Robertson appears to have left "no stone unturned" in documenting the Bieber family history from 1744 to the present. The account covers the years when the family first settled as immigrants in Pennsylvania, making significant contributions there before moving south to settle in North Carolina. A wealth of information provided from newspapers and other sources chronicles the impact the Bieber family had in Western North Carolina, where family members contributed greatly to the state's history, especially in religion and education …

This family history is well written, well organized, and well illustrated with many photographs of excellent quality, drawings, and even maps … The author has searched and researched many, many sources …

Brief biographical sketches illuminate the lives of men and women of Bieber heritage who made major contributions to their communities, state, and nation, and whose ideas and recommendations are, in many ways, relevant in today's world.

- 2022 Judging Panel of the North Carolina Society of Historians -

“Educating the mind

without educating the heart is no education at all.”

Aristotle

The Alsatian Bieber (Beaver) Clan: German – American Educational and Mainline Protestant Leaders of Pennsylvania, North Carolina, the Midwest, and Beyond

- Christopher Hunt Robertson, M.Ed. -

Author: CRob2011@hotmail.com

2nd E-Book Edition Issued May 2022 (Revised Title)
1st Printed and E-Book Edition Issued November 2021 *
Copyright 2021 (All Rights Reserved)

Published by Google Books

Bibliography: In-Text

* Original Title: "The Alsatian Bieber (Beaver) Clan: German – American Educational and Mainline Protestant Leaders of Pennsylvania and North Carolina"

Introduced to the ...

The German Society of Pennsylvania,

The German American Society of the Carolinas,

and the

Lutheran Historical Society of the Mid - Atlantic

"The legacy of the Bieber/Beaver ancestors presented here is representative of the many contributions of early Alsatian – American immigrants ."

For Improved Viewing:

This publication was designed as an e-book, and most readers will be reading this online, where many of its pages can be viewed with enlarged font and vivid colors. Also, color highlighting that appears on digital screens does not appear in black-and-white printed copy.

Simply go to the website Books.Google.com, type "Christopher Hunt Robertson" in the search field, and then scroll down to select the book's title. On a personal computer or laptop screen, you can then optimize viewing by selecting "Display Options," and enlarge as desired. (Google Books allows reading without downloading or registration.)

Automated Indexing:

No index is needed since online browsers can quickly search entire Google E-Books for every occurrence of names, places, institutions, etc.